

My name is Aleigha Lambert. I am a General Music major, concentration in voice. And I am a graduating senior.

I chose music because it's always been a part of my life. It's something that I've always done. So, no matter how hard I try to drift away from it I always end up in music, so – do or die. Music or nothing.

I love everything about music. It a form of expression. It's how I'm able to express myself. So, you know, I couldn't see any other way to do it.

All of the professors in the music department, they all have an impact on my life.

I would say to get involved. Don't just come to the music department and just chill. You have to get involved in something. That way you're able to grow as an artist and you meet a lot of music people, music majors and non-music majors. You just meet people. So, get involved is something I would say to an upcoming music professional.
