V. Student Learning Outcomes – Upon completion of this course the learner will be able to:
1. Recognize and critically confer significant creative, philosophical and religious works by describing and analyzing the most famous works by African composers and performers.
2. Help the student appreciate the complex vision, social-cultural background, ethical values and aesthetic judgment in their compositions by exploring the composers’ lives and the social context in which they existed.
3. Discuss the diverse means of communication in these works by developing a specialized and descriptive vocabulary of terms and through analysis of these masterworks.

VI. Course Requirements and Evaluation Criteria -
   a. Grading Scale – 92-100 = A
      83-91 = B
      73-82 = C
      64-72 = D
      63 or less = F
   b. Attendance Requirements – Class attendance is required for all students enrolled in courses at the 100 and 200 levels. Students are required to arrive at each class meeting on time and remain in class until dismissed by the instructor. Students, who miss 10% of the class two (2) without a proper excuse, will have their final grades lowered one letter grade. Every two tardies to class will constitute one (1) absence.
   c. Graded Assignments --tests, papers, quizzes, reports, group or individual projects, experiments, etc, will be used to determine student’s final grade.
   d. Value of Each Assignment –
      - Class preparation and participation 20%
      - BlackBoard Assignments 10%
      - Research Project 15%
      - Quizzes (3) 15%
      - Concert Review and Class Projects 20%
      - Mid-term Examination 10%
      - Final Examination 10%

   e. Policy on Missed or Late Assignments - Late papers will not be accepted without prior approval/permission of the instructor.

Please note: If these evaluation criteria must be revised because of extraordinary circumstances, the instructor will distribute a written amendment to the syllabus.
FSU Policy on Disruptive Behavior in the Classroom (Optional)

The Code of the University of North Carolina (of which FSU is a constituent institution) and the FSU Code of Student Conduct affirm that all students have the right to receive instruction without interference from other students who disrupt classes.

FSU Core Curriculum Learning Outcome under Ethics and Civic Engagement (6.03): All students will “prepare themselves for responsible citizenship by fulfilling roles and responsibilities associated with membership in various organizations.” Each classroom is a mini-community. Students learn and demonstrate responsible citizenship by abiding by the rules of classroom behavior and respecting the rights all members of the class.

The FSU Policy on Disruptive Behavior (see FSU website for complete policy) identifies the following behaviors as disruptive:

1. Failure to respect the rights of other students to express their viewpoints by behaviors such as repeatedly interrupting others while they speak, using profanity and/or disrespectful names or labels for others, ridiculing others for their viewpoints, and other similar behaviors;
2. Excessive talking to other students while the faculty member or other students are presenting information or expressing their viewpoints is prohibited.
3. Use of cell phones and other electronic devices
4. Overt inattentiveness (sleeping, reading newspapers)
5. Eating in class (except as permitted by the faculty member)
6. Threats or statements that jeopardize the safety of the student and others
7. Failure to follow reasonable requests of faculty members
8. Entering class late or leaving class early on regular basis
9. Others as specified by the instructor.

The instructor may take the following actions in response to disruptive behavior. Students should recognize that refusing to comply with reasonable requests from the faculty member is another incidence of disruptive behavior.

1. Direct student to cease disruptive behavior.
2. Direct student to change seating locations.
3. Require student to have individual conference with faculty member. At his meeting the faculty member will explain the consequences of continued disruptive behavior.
4. Dismiss class for the remainder of the period. (Must be reported to department chair.)
5. Lower the student’s final exam by a maximum of one-letter grade.
6. File a complaint with the Dean of Students for more severe disciplinary action.

Students who believe the faculty member has unfairly applied the policy to them may make an appeal with the faculty member’s department chair.

VII. Academic Support Resources – SI, Smart Thinking, Criterion, University College Learning Center, Writing Center.

VIII. Course Outline and Assignment Schedule
TBD

IX. Teaching Strategies

1. A variety of models will be used throughout this course. Classroom experiences will include but not limited to: lectures, cooperative learning, reading and writing assignments, critical listening, video and audio presentations. The instructor will supply handouts and selected reading material for musical activities. Students will develop style sheets for each genre discussed.

2. An oral group presentation must be completed on a topic selected from a list prepared by the instructor or of interest to the student in the area of African or African-American music, approved by the instructor. The presentation must be researched and include a bibliography. Presentations will take place during the final exam period and should be no longer than 15 minutes in length.

3. A series of written exams will be given during the course of the class. Some exams may be given via CPS System (answers completed via remote controlled computer response.) These exams will be short essay questions based on the reading material.

4. Each student must research one African-American composer, arranger, or performer from the list provided by the instructor. Papers must be prepared to include title page, table of contents, and a bibliography. All students must present their papers using power point with main points outlined, to include but not limited to photos, sound clips and video clips. All papers should be 12 point – New Times Roman.
