FSU Policy on Electronic Mail: Fayetteville State University provides to each student, free of charge, an electronic mail account (username@uncfsu.edu) that is easily accessible via the Internet. The university has established FSU email as the primary mode of correspondence between university officials and enrolled students. Inquiries and requests from students pertaining to academic records, grades, bills, financial aid, and other matters of a confidential nature must be submitted via FSU email. Inquiries or requests from personal email accounts are not assured a response. The university maintains open-use computer laboratories throughout the campus that can be used to access electronic mail. Rules and regulations governing the use of FSU email may be found at <http://www.uncfsu.edu/PDFs/EmailPolicyFinal.pdf>

II. Course Description: From Course Catalogue: “A survey of the major English writers from the Restoration—the age of Dryden, of Pope, and of Johnson—to the beginning of Romanticism and a study of the rise of the English novel in the eighteenth century.”

This class will strive to teach you about British literature in what is known as the Long Eighteenth Century (1660-1832). Not only will it introduce you to the historical contexts of British literature in the eighteenth century and the amazing changes that occurred in the way we think, speak, and write in the course of 170 short years, but it will hone your critical and analytical skills. While these skills will be used in class to analyze literature, they will be valuable to you throughout your academic and professional careers.

III. Disabled Student Services: In accordance with Section 504 of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ACA) of 1990, if you have a disability or think you have a disability to please contact the Center for Personal Development in the Spaulding Building, Room 155 (1st Floor); 910-672-1203.

IV. Textbook:

The Norton Anthology of English Literature. Volume 1C. 8th Ed. ISBN: 0-393-92719-9.
Evelina. Frances Burney. The Norton Critical Edition. ISBN: 0-393-97158-9.

V. Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Identify major literary movements, genres, forms, and authors of the Long Eighteenth Century (1660-1780).
- Evaluate cultural/historical/biographical influences on the construction of texts.
- Develop close textual analysis, including using and citing primary and secondary sources.
- Create a multi-media project that demonstrates analytical understanding of text(s).

VI. Course Requirements and Evaluation Criteria: If these evaluation criteria must be revised because of extraordinary circumstances, I will distribute a written amendment to the syllabus.

a. Class Grading Scale:						FSU's Grading Scale:
	B+	= 3.3	C+	= 2.3	D+	= 1.3	A	3.5+
A	= 4.0	B	= 3.0	C	= 2.0	D	= 1.0	B	2.5+
A-	= 3.6	B-	= 2.6	C-	= 1.6	D-	= 0.6	C	1.5+

Number grade to letter grade:

	B+	= 87-89	C+	= 77-79	D+	= 68-69
A	= 95-100	B	= 83-86	C	= 73-76	D	= 65-67
A-	= 90-94	B-	= 80-82	C-	= 70-72	F	= 64 or below

b. Attendance Requirements: Attending class is the single-most important habit you can get into as a university student. From the Course Catalogue: “Students are expected to attend all class meetings, laboratories, and other instructional sessions for all courses in which they are enrolled. Students are also expected to arrive to class on time and remain in class for the entire scheduled period. When students must miss class(es) for unavoidable reasons (i.e., illness, family emergencies, or participation in official university sponsored activities), they are responsible for informing faculty of the reasons for the absences, in advance if possible, and completing all missed assignments.”

- If you are forced to miss class due to something beyond your control, you will need to get in touch with me as soon as possible via phone or email and provide written documentation (a doctor’s note about whichever family member you were helping, a sports schedule and a letter from your coach saying you’re on the team, a mechanic’s bill) within two class periods of your return. In this event, your absence will be excused, but you will still be required to hand in all the written work needed.
- Your Attendance grade is 10% of your class grade. It starts at a 4.0. Each unexcused absence will subtract -0.2. Each time you are either late to class or leave class early will subtract -0.1. So, for example, if you have 5 unexcused absences and have been late 4 times and left early 3 times, your Attendance grade will be:  $4.0 - (5 \times 0.2) - (7 \times 0.1) = 2.3$ , which is a C+.
- However, if you miss more than 15 classes, whether excused or not (or the equivalent thereof; that is, you’re late to or leave early from more than 30 classes, or a combination of the three), you will automatically fail the course. 15 classes is a third of the semester. You will not be able to pass if you’ve missed more than a third of the semester and this policy reflects that reality.

c. Graded Assignments and Value:

Attendance	10%
Annotated Bibliography	15%
Poetry Analysis Paper	15%
Presentation on 18thC Artforms/People	10%
Evelina Word/Theme Analysis	15%
Literary Analysis Research Paper	15%
Midterm Terminology Exam	10%
Final Terminology Exam	10%

d. Policy on Missed or Late Assignments:

- If you fail to hand in any of the above written assignments for the class, or you fail to take an exam (or when you are absent for more than 15 classes, excused or not), you will AUTOMATICALLY fail the class, no exceptions.
- To count as turned in, all written assignments must:
  - Be turned in during the first 10 minutes of class. If you are late to class, your assignment is late.
  - Be handed in as a typewritten hard-copy. If you do not give me a typewritten hard-copy of the paper (during the first 10 minutes of class), your assignment is incomplete.
  - Be handed in to TurnItIn.com through Blackboard. If you do not upload your paper to Blackboard before class, your assignment is incomplete and late.
  - Include a print-out of the first page of the TurnItIn.com receipt you should receive in your email after you post your paper to Blackboard. If you do not include this TurnItIn.com receipt, your assignment is incomplete.
  - Include a print-out of the Grading Rubric/Checklist for that assignment. If you do not include a copy of the Grading Rubric, your assignment is incomplete.
  - Late or incomplete assignments will be reduced a full grade (A → B or B- → C-, etc.).
- These requirements necessitate you being able to plan ahead, making sure you have finished your paper, loaded it to Blackboard, received your TurnItIn.com receipt, and printed out your paper, your TurnItIn.com receipt, and your Grading Rubric/Checklist in time enough to be ON time for class. So, plan accordingly.

- In addition to the late/incomplete assignment penalty, if you do not fulfill a paper requirement (type or number of texts to analyze, number of citations and/or sources), your grade will be reduced by one full grade for each missing requirement. For example, if you are required to use three outside sources and you only use two, your assignment will be reduced a full grade (A → B or B+ → C+, etc.).
- In addition to the late/incomplete assignment penalty and the paper requirement penalty, word count will be reduced one full grade per 50 words under the required word count. For example, if the word count requirement is 1500 words and you hand in 1420 words (80 words under the required word count), the HIGHEST grade your brilliant paper can get is a C.
- These policies are cumulative, meaning that if you do not fulfill one requirement and your paper is 80 words short, and you fail to hand in a copy of the Grading Rubric/Checklist, your paper will fail, no matter how brilliant it may otherwise be. So read the assignment sheet closely and follow the Grading Rubric/Checklist closely. There will be no exceptions.

e. Academic Dishonesty Policy: According to the FSU Code of Student Conduct, a student violates the Academic Dishonesty Policy if he or she attempts to cheat or plagiarize, cheats, plagiarizes, falsifies, or aids and abets others to cheat or plagiarize.

- Cheating is defined as receiving unauthorized aid or assistance on any form of academic work.
- Plagiarism is defined as copying the language structure, ideas and/or thoughts of another without giving appropriate recognition and/or adopting it as one's own original work.
- Falsifying is defined as unauthorized changing of grades or conduct involving any untruth, spoken or written, regarding any circumstances related to academic work.
- Penalties include failing the course, suspension, and expulsion, and will be prosecuted to the fullest extent possible.

My personal policy:

- If I deem that any of your written assignments is in any way plagiarized, it will automatically receive an F. I will notify you of my decision and we will have a meeting with the English Department Chairperson and a faculty member of your choosing in which you will have the opportunity to provide a defense.
- IF I give you a chance to rewrite the assignment (at my discretion):
  - You will use a completely different topic from your original topic—that is, you will start the paper again from scratch.
  - The paper grade will be reduced by one full grade after you hand it in. (Most the paper can get is a B.)
- If you plagiarize again, you will receive an automatic F for the class. Period. The end.

f. Student Behavior Expectations:

- Cell phones: I allow cell phones in class—I understand the need for them and will have mine on me as well—but I require them to be in a pocket and on vibrate. If they ring, you are to leave the room quietly to answer it. I do not want them out on a desk or in view at any time. Do not get caught text messaging in my class—I will embarrass you.
- Email correspondence: Any emails you send to me act as professional correspondence. In an attempt to provide you with professional experience, I expect your emails to be correctly spelled (as much as possible) and correctly punctuated and capitalized. No chat room or text message speak will be tolerated. I will just return the email asking for it to be corrected. This includes including an appropriate subject line, an indication of who you are if I can't tell from your email address, and correct salutations and sign-offs. This is what will be required of you when you enter the professional world, so practice it here, too.

g. Academic Support Resources:

- TurnItIn.com: Every written assignment for class will be submitted through Blackboard to TurnItIn.com, no exceptions. If you hand an assignment in, but do not submit it through Blackboard and TurnItIn.com, it will count as a missing assignment and you will fail the class (see above: d. Policy on Missed or Late Assignments).
