Technical Note: This data reflects teacher evaluation rating scores collected via the North Carolina Educator Evaluation System (NCEES). The NCEES evaluation instruments are based on the Framework for 21st Century Learning and the North Carolina Professional Teaching Standards. This indicator includes teacher evaluation ratings by institution, grade level, and subject area for teachers with less than five years of experience during the period studied.

I. Impact on P-12 Learning (4.1)

The North Carolina of Public Instruction Report Card shows student growth percentages from FSU completers as 71.1% meeting or exceeding growth compared to 80.4% statewide in 2017-18.

In 2016-17, FSU had 67.6% meeting or exceeding growth compared to 80.1% statewide. FSU is increasing its percentage of successful students as the State holds steady.

Reports are available on ncpublicschools.org. We share the reports with the COE community as part of our data retreat and our operational plans and assessment reports.

III. Employer Satisfaction (4.3)

Data from employers for the past two years shows our candidates are comparable to other beginning teachers (mean score 3.23 out of 5.0 possible points). The percent of our beginning teachers rated proficient or above in the NCEES excluded the state-wide proficiency and above ratings on all standards.

IV. Satisfaction of Completers (4.4)

75% of completers rated their preparation to teach very well or well. 88% indicated that they agreed the student teaching experience provided at FSU.

Questions regarding program preparation and student teaching received affirmative ratings from 75% - 88% of candidates.
