Communication

Education is a partnership between home and school. We value parent involvement at every level and encourage you to partner with us. In order for this partnership to be effective, we need to be able to communicate.

Please feel free to call, write a note, or e-mail us if you have concerns or questions about your child’s education. We are always available to schedule a conference to discuss any issue or concern you have regarding your child.

About Us:
The Fayetteville State University Early Childhood Learning Center is a child development and early childhood education center serving children from 6 weeks through 5 years of age. The center is under the direction of the School of Education. It was established the fall of 1970 to provide Early Childhood Education Majors an opportunity to become familiar with young children and their characteristics. In addition to being a center for the training of early childhood students, the Early Childhood Learning Center also has as one its goals to provide a learning environment that will help children develop to their maximum potential physically, intellectually, socially, and emotionally.
The ECLC serves not only the University, but the Fayetteville community. The Cumberland County Department of Social Services Day Care unit and the Partnership of Children of Cumberland refer as many of its daycare applicants as space permits.

Our Mission:

- Is to create a setting in which children will find warmth, comfort, and gentleness as well an abundance of opportunities for movement, exploration and self-discovery according to individual needs, interests, and abilities#
- To assist parents in understanding the developmental stages of their child and enabling them to contribute most effectively to the child's growth and enrichment
