

LOOKING FOR ONE MORE COURSE TO COMPLETE YOUR REGISTRATION FOR THIS TERM?

You're lucky!! Look no further!!!

There are a few more openings in African-American Philosophy. Phil 212. Critical Thinking (Phil 110) is a prerequisite for the course, but I can do an override to permit those who are now taking Phil 110.

Does the name Angelina Davis sound familiar?

This term's course promises to be extremely interesting and fruitful given that one of the main philosophers discussed in the textbook (besides Rev Dr. Martin Luther King,) is visiting FSU on Monday, Jan 17. This nationally acclaimed and internationally famous- her critics would say notorious- African-American female philosopher, will be presenting a paper at Sea Brook Auditorium on Monday as part of the Chancellor's Lecture Series.

Interested? Come to JKSA Rm 110A or 226 or send me email: josei@uncfsu.edu. You can also call Ex 1883.