

DEPARTMENT CHAIR. Fayetteville State University, a member institution of the 16-campus University of North Carolina, seeks a visionary and highly innovative Chair to lead the newly established Department of World Languages and Cultures with an undergraduate degree in Spanish, minors in Chinese and French, and courses in several non-traditional languages. <http://www.uncfsu.edu/languages/>

Fayetteville State University is located in Fayetteville, NC, which is the home of Fort Bragg and Pope AFB, and is within a two-hour drive of NC beaches and a one-hour drive of Raleigh-Durham-Chapel-Hill, home of the Research Triangle Park and Duke University, NC State University, and UNC-Chapel Hill. Fayetteville enjoys a temperate climate and a low cost of living.

Applicants must have a doctorate in a foreign language with a preference given to Spanish, French or a non-traditional language. The successful candidate must have a record of teaching excellence and evidence of active scholarship commensurate with the rank of a tenured Associate or Full Professor. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with administrative academic leadership and acquisition of external grant funding. The position start-date is August 1, 2011 and applications will be reviewed until the position is filled. The salary is highly competitive and will be consistent with credentials and experience.

To apply, please submit a letter of application (including a statement of administrative/leadership philosophy), a curriculum vita, all official graduate and undergraduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation from individuals who are familiar with the applicant's employment history to: Dr. David E. Barlow, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences Fayetteville State University, 1200 Murchison Road, Fayetteville, NC 28301-4298.

This position is subject to the successful completion of an employment background check. An employment background check includes a criminal background check, employment verification, reference checks, license verification (if applicable) and credit history check (if applicable).

Fayetteville State University is committed to equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants, students, or employees based on race, color, national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, or disability. Moreover, Fayetteville State University values diversity and actively seeks to recruit talented students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds.
