Greetings,

My name is Kendra Haywood and I am a Career Coach here at Fayetteville State University Office of Career Services.

I encourage you to take full advantage of the services provided to support your career development process. I will sit down with you one-on-one to develop an action plan for accomplishing your personal career goals. There are benefits to utilizing the services offered to you as soon as your first year here at Fayetteville State University such as:

- Explore career possibilities
- Learn about how your studies and careers relate
- Clarify your values, skills and interests
- Discover and articulate your story
- Create strategies for making the most of your college experience
- Find industry-specific advice and information
- Identify internship and job opportunities
- Develop job search skills

Whether you’re wondering where to begin, looking for an internship, or starting your job search Career Services will guide you through the process of career development, from your first questions to your last. With your degree in hand and your passions, talents, skills, and experiences, you can be ready for the career you've always wanted or perhaps one you never imagined. Schedule an appointment today and come see me! It is my hope you’ll visit early and often.
