

Hi my name is Dana McNeill. I am a senior at Fayetteville State University and also my major is elementary education.

I love kids and I love the look on their face whenever you ask them something they don't understand but when you begin to explain it to them on the level that they understand it that a-ha moment it makes me happy.

As a matter of fact, I graduated in 2001, and when I came back in 2015 I realized it was like a 15-year gap and I felt like a little overwhelmed when I sat in Dr. Hudson's class. And I'll never forget the look I had on my face she sat and watched me while she was teaching it was like Miss Hall is everything okay and I was like yeah. My body language - I said yes my body language said no. So after class I told her I was like Dr. Hudson I really I don't think I can handle this this is too much. She was like what are you stressed about? I said technology has changed the classroom has changed. She said it'll take one day at a time you can do it. So thanks Dr. Hudson. One thing I will say is when I first started I was like they give us so much work and I'm like all this work - when am I going to be able to apply it? But then I realize you're never given something and not going to be able to use it later so even though it's a lot, take it. Because sooner or later you'll need it.

Well number one whenever I was talking to my clinical educator p12 and I was telling her that I'm from Fayetteville State, she was like you know when you get through, you're gonna be worth a lot. Your value will have, your value will have increased. You'll be worth a lot. So for that, I am glad to be a Bronco.
