

My name is Maya Glaspie. I'm classified as a senior. I am a history major.

I chose to major in history because after experiencing the very first history teachers that I had in the department, I really connected with them. I felt they were eager to teach me what they knew and I was eager to learn that.

I want to be a lawyer. And I want to go in front of the UN and talk to them about climate change.

I think all of faculty members in the history department have been very influential to me just because I can see how they act and that's how I kind of want to act. I see how they interact with other people and that's how I wish to be. And I've never met a faculty member I didn't like but I think I've bonded especially with those in the history department.

Something interesting I think that I've experienced at Fayetteville State is that I've been a part of the inaugural year of a club here on campus. I think when you go into college you just expect to continue a legacy whereas I've been a part of being able to create one.

Yeah, I'm proud to be a bronco because I'm proud of the education that I'm receiving. I think I've received all of the tools that I need to go into the world and do what I need to do for it.
