Greetings Fayetteville State Students we want to let you guys know about some really cool things taking place right here on the campus of Fayetteville State University. Starting with these Call Boxes.

At any time that you feel that you are in danger right here on our campus, all you have to do is come to these call boxes, push that button for help, and one of our police officers will be on the way to you as soon as possible. These only start with a push of a button and it’s very simple. You can connect yourselves right to our Fayetteville State Police Department at any time. There’re 43 call boxes all over campus. Anytime you need our police department, they’re always here to help.

Alright, so if you’re ever around campus and you use one of these call boxes and you’re wondering “How can the police really find out where I am”? Well, look up. That satellite right there and that flashing blue light will let the police know exactly where you are so that they come to you as soon as possible.

Alright so, if you’re ever wondering how you can get a demonstration on how to use these call boxes, feel free to take a stop by our campus police department and they will be sure to show you guys exactly how to use our call boxes correctly.

If you are ever in danger and need assistance be sure to call 911 as soon as possible so that the police can get to you immediately.
