

I am Chinwendu Maduegbunam. I'm a junior a psychology major and I'm part of the Honors Program.

I came to Fayetteville State to play basketball on an athletic scholarship and when I also came here I also received an academic scholarship as well.

I would say Ms. Henna Jones because she works with athletes to try to create a schedule for us that will fit and she's been guiding me along with what courses I should take and what would work best for a student athlete's schedule.

I would say come to Fayetteville State and I'd say once you come join us many as much programs you can handle because that's how you get to meet new people. Stay active on campus you know do as much as you can because there's opportunities around and just look out for them.

I am proud to be a Bronco because of the community that we have on campus is very loving and family like and the Bronco family has become my family. There you go.