

00:03
my name is Jose Canas I am a junior in 00:08
the Bachelor of Social Work program as a 00:11
retiree from the Army's table state just 00:14
kind of fit into what I needed to do as 00:18
far as being able to reach my goals in 00:21
particularly BSW program is one of the 00:22
better programs that is recognized 00:25
throughout the country so I thought that 00:28
was a good starting point for me one of 00:31
the things that really turned me on to 00:33
Fayetteville State was just how involved
00:38
they are in the community so in in my 00:41
first and second semesters I had to do 00:44
some service learning in which I had to 00:47
be engaged in the community so I thought 00:49
that that was something that is useful 00:51
and definitely in my field of work as a 00:54
potential future social worker that was 00:56
something that I wanted to be able to 00:57
contribute specifically having been a 01:00
former soldier that was something that I 01:02
wanted to continue to do in my life
01:04
serve contributing some kind of capacity 01:05
coming from a very large city it's very 01:09
easy to get lost in the mix 01:11
although failure is not necessarily a 01:13
small town it's not that big where a lot 01:18
of the people without the whether it's 01:20

fellow students or professors they're 01:24
well known in the community they have a 01:26
lot of pull in the community and so a 01:28
lot of people who know each other in 01:31
this area and so being a member of the 01:34
Fayetteville State group kind of helps 01:38
you to get set up to meet people and you 01:42
know be able to find things that you 01:44
need to do I'm not a traditional student 01:46
I'm not on campus every single day
01:49
half of my classes are online I'm not as 01:52
closely knit with the University as I 01:54
can be but I do feel that it will be 01:59
it's gonna contribute you know in the 02:02
long run to the life
02:04
you
