

CRJC 222 - Community Corrections

Credit Hours: 3

Lecture Hours: 3

Lab Hours: 0

An in-depth theoretical perspective of the social, legal, and ethical issues which gave rise to the development of contemporary strategies of corrections in the community including programs such as probation, parole, other alternatives to incarceration, intermediate sanctions, and diversionary programs

Prerequisite: CRJC 200 and CRJC 220