Dear Parents, Students and Friends of FSU:

The University has been monitoring closely the spread of the coronavirus and is making necessary preparations to keep the campus safe. The university has a plan in place to handle emergencies. A pandemic team has been working for the past week to respond to student needs should an issue arise.

There are no confirmed cases on the Fayetteville State University campus. If it becomes necessary to close the campus, we are committed to continuing the educational process. Plans are in place to teach classes online so that our students can continue progress toward degree completion.

Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to follow the same precautions as you do to prevent influenza and colds. Wash your hands, sneeze and cough into your sleeve (not hand), and avoid sharing food, cups or utensils. Avoid people who are sick. Get a flu shot if you haven’t already. We also are encouraging students to visit Student Health Services if they experience any changes in their health such as a fever, cough or shortness of breath.

Please know the safety and welfare of our entire University community is our foremost concern. Student Health Services will be available to answer any questions you might have. Please contact them at (910) 672-1259.

We will keep our University website updated with pertinent information and will post it as it becomes available.

Sincerely,

Peggy Valentine
