I. PURPOSE

Title IX is a comprehensive federal law that prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex. In complying with Title IX, Fayetteville State University (University) prohibits and will not tolerate sex discrimination.

The purpose of this policy (Policy) to set forth the University's commitment to maintaining an environment free of sexual harassment and to inform the University community of the process involved in filing and investigating allegations of sexual harassment. The University is committed to investigate and if necessary adjudicating allegations of sexual harassment in a prompt and equitable manner.

II. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

A. Definition

For purposes of this policy, the University subscribes to the following definition of sexual harassment:

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic or student status, or
- submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment, academic or other institutional decisions affecting such individual, or
- Such conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with, limits, or deprives an individual from participating in or benefiting from the University's education or employment programs and/or activities.

Both males and females can be victims of sexual harassment, and the harasser and the victim can be of the same sex.

B. Sexual Misconduct (Violence)

Sexual misconduct is a form of sexual harassment that is prohibited by law. Sexual misconduct refers to physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim's mental capacity or use of drugs or alcohol. Sexual misconduct includes but is not limited to acts such as rape, sexual assault, sexual battery and sexual coercion.

A student who is the victim of an act of sexual misconduct by a student should file a complaint under the University's Prohibited Sexual Conduct policy. A student/employee who is the victim of an act of sexual misconduct by a University employee or a third party should file a complaint under this Policy. A victim of an act of sexual misconduct is also encouraged to contact the University's Police and Public Safety.

III. CONFIDENTIALITY

The University recognizes the importance of confidentiality. Title IX Coordinators and University Officials shall respect the confidentiality and privacy of individuals reporting or accused of sexual harassment to the extent reasonably possible. Confidentiality may not be able to be maintained in circumstances where the law requires disclosure of information or when disclosure required by the University outweighs protecting the rights of others.

IV. RETALIATION

Retaliation against an individual who reports or complains of sexual harassment or who provides information in a sexual harassment investigation or proceeding is prohibited. Alleged retaliation shall be subject to investigation and may result in disciplinary action.

V. FALSE CLAIMS

An individual who knowingly makes false allegations of sexual harassment, or who knowingly provides false information in a sexual harassment investigation or proceeding, shall be subject to disciplinary action.

VI. COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

The purpose of these complaint procedures is to provide an opportunity for a prompt and fair resolution of sexual harassment allegations and to preserve the due process rights of the parties involved, including the right to receive notice of a complaint and to have an opportunity for an impartial investigation. Members of the University community who become aware of specific and credible allegations of sexual harassment, whether through the report of a complainant or otherwise, have an obligation to report the allegations promptly to the Title IX Coordinator.

An informal and formal process is available to individuals seeking to file a complaint based upon sexual harassment. Individuals utilizing the informal process may file a complaint in writing or orally. Individuals who file a formal complaint must do so in writing.

A. Title IX Coordinator

The University's Title IX Coordinator has ultimate oversight responsibility for coordinating the University's Title IX compliance efforts. This includes, but is not limited to conducting and/or coordinating investigations of complaints (i.e., sexual harassment) received pursuant to Title IX; ensuring a fair and neutral process for all parties; and monitoring all aspects of the University's Title IX compliance program. Individuals with questions or concerns about Title IX, and/or those who wish to file a complaint, may contact the Title IX Coordinator. Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator is as follows:

Ms. Patricia Bradley
Title IX Coordinator
Barber Building, Room 242

B. Informal Resolution

The informal resolution process provides an alternative method of addressing complaints of sexual harassment aimed at stopping the behavior. Complaints that are resolved informally are not investigated to the same degree as formal complaints, although the complainant and the accused may be interviewed. However, the University reserves the right to conduct a full and complete investigation of any complaint even if the complainant has decided to seek to resolve the complaint using the informal resolution process.

An employee or student seeking to resolve a sexual harassment complaint informally shall provide a written statement to the Title IX Coordinator within thirty (30) calendar days of the alleged harassing behavior. The Title IX Coordinator will meet individually with the complainant and accused and any other parties that the Title IX Coordinator deems appropriate in an attempt to come to an informal resolution. Possible outcomes of an informal resolution may include explicit agreements about future conduct, changes in workplace assignments, substitution of one class for another, or other appropriate relief.

If the complainant decides that the formal review is preferable, at any time during the informal review process, the complainant may terminate the informal review process and begin the formal review process.

C. Formal Resolution

The formal resolution process is aimed at determining if sexual harassment has occurred, the culpability of the accused and appropriate sanctions or remedies, if necessary. The formal resolution process for employees subject to the State Personnel Act (SHRA employees) differs from the formal resolution process for employees exempt from the State Personnel Act (EHRA employees) and students. The processes for each are detailed below.

1. SHRA Employees

SHRA employees who have a complaint of sexual harassment may use the formal grievance procedures outlined in the University's Unlawful Workplace Harassment policy. A complaint filed under the Unlawful Workplace Harassment policy must be submitted in writing to the Office of Human Resources within thirty (30) calendar days of the alleged harassing behavior. The filing of the action within this time period is required in order for SHRA employees to maintain their appeal rights to the State Personnel Commission.

SHRA employees who do not submit a written complaint to the Office of Human Resources within thirty (30) calendar days may still utilize the informal process described above for resolving concerns involving alleged sexual harassing behavior; however, such employees will not have the option of later appealing to the State Personnel Commission or using the University's formal resolution process for EHRA employees and students which is outlined below.

2. EHRA Faculty and Non-Faculty Employees and Students

a. Filing a Complaint

i. Complaints against Employees or Students

An EHRA employee or student interested in filing a formal complaint against an employee or student shall provide the written complaint to the Title IX Coordinator within thirty (30) calendar days of the alleged harassing behavior.

ii. Complaints against Third Parties

The University prohibits sexual harassment by third parties towards members of the University community. Although individuals who are not students or employees of the University are not subject to discipline under the University's internal processes, the University will take prompt, corrective action to eliminate sexual harassment and prevent its recurrence. EHRA employees or students who believe that they have been sexually harassed by an individual who is not a University employee or student should report the alleged sexual harassment to the Title IX Coordinator.

b. Processing a Complaint

Once a complaint is received, the Title IX Coordinator shall conduct a formal investigation. The Title IX Coordinator shall seek to have the complaint resolved within sixty (60) calendar days from the date the complaint was received.

c. Investigation

The Title IX Coordinator shall be responsible for reviewing and investigating written complaints received in a prompt and impartial manner. In so doing, the Title IX Coordinator shall be authorized to interview the complainant, the accused, and any witnesses in order to determine if sexual harassment has occurred and the culpability of the accused. Meetings with the parties to the complaint shall be conducted individually and shall not take the form of a hearing. The Title IX Coordinator shall keep an accurate record of all meetings and interviews.

Both parties shall be provided with the opportunity to present relevant witnesses and other evidence to the Title IX Coordinator.

d. Findings and Conclusions

Following the conclusion of the investigation, the Title IX Coordinator shall determine, (using the preponderance of the evidence standard, i.e., it is more likely than not that sexual harassment occurred) whether or not the complaint rises to the level of sexual harassment.

e. Report of Findings

Once the Title IX Coordinator has concluded the investigation, the Title IX Coordinator shall draft a report consisting of the following:

- Name and sex of the complainant;
- A description of the allegation, including dates, times and individuals involved;
- The date the complaint or other report was made;
- The dates on which interviews were conducted;
- The names and sex of all known witnesses to the alleged incident;
- The date on which any relevant documentary evidence was obtained;
- Any written statements;
- Any interim steps taken with respect to the complainant and the respondent;

- A description of any action taken to prevent recurrence of any harassing incidents; and
- A summary of the findings and a determination as to whether or not the complaint rises to the level of sexual harassment.

Prior to issuing the final report to the University Official, the Title IX Coordinator shall consult with the Office of Legal Affairs. After such consultation, the Title IX Coordinator shall provide written notice to both parties of the results of the investigation.

A University Official is defined as one of the following individuals:

- the Athletic Director if the accused is an employee of the Department of Athletics;
- the Director of Student Conduct if the accused is a student;
- the Dean of an Academic Unit if the accused is an employee of a unit supervised by the Dean or if the accused reports directly to the Dean;
- the Vice Chancellor if the accused is an employee of a unit supervised by the Vice Chancellor or the accused reports directly to the Vice Chancellor
- the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs if the accused is a Dean or the accused reports directly to the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs; or,
- the Chancellor if the accused reports directly to the Chancellor
- the General Counsel if the accused is an employee of a unit supervised by the General Counsel or is a third-party who is not a student or employee.

At the time, the Title IX Coordinator issues the final report to the University Official, the Title IX Coordinator shall notify the complainant and the accused, in writing, as to whether or not sexual harassment was found to have occurred.

f. Disciplinary Action

After reviewing the final report, the University Official shall determine whether disciplinary action will be taken against the accused. Any consideration of disciplinary action shall be determined on the basis of the facts of each case as well as any University record indicating previous wrong doing by the accused. Any disciplinary action taken shall be in accordance with the University's faculty, staff or student disciplinary policies.

Notwithstanding the above, the University reserves the right to take immediate and reasonable action to stop any harassing behavior. Such action shall not be limited by the process provided herein.

VII. RECORDS

The Title IX Coordinator and University Official shall maintain all records related to cases involving allegations of sexual harassment until the process has been concluded. Once concluded the University Official shall forward such files to the Title IX Coordinator (for allegations made against an employee or third party) or the Director of Student Conduct (for allegations made against a student).
