

48 Hrs
CE Credits

Prepare Career-Ready Nursing Graduates with Evidence-Based Teaching

While nursing faculty often excel at patient care, most lack formal teaching training to prepare career-ready graduates. This specialized certification provides evidence-based teaching methods that ensure students develop the critical thinking and professional competencies needed to align with the ACCN Essentials, drive NCLEX success rates, and prepare them for thriving nursing careers.

For Nursing Faculty At Every Level

- Undergraduate nursing faculty
- Graduate nursing faculty
- Instructors transitioning from clinical practice to academia
- Experienced educators seeking AACN Essentials alignment

Nursing Faculty Pathway: Effective Teaching Certification

Connect effective teaching pedagogy directly to the essential AACN competencies

Flexible Delivery Options

Support teaching in both in-person and online settings, with mixed or nursing-only cohorts

Real-World Application

Discipline-specific guidance to make learning content deeply relevant for nursing contexts

Real Nursing Faculty

Proven evidence-based practices that work from the classroom to clinical settings

48 Hrs
Continuing Education Credits

48 hours of CE credits that advance both teaching excellence and career development

Learn From 8 Featured Nursing Educators

Charity M. Chimwala-Selico

Asst. Professor, Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science

"It gave me such pride to see that my efforts in providing an active learning environment for the students is actually helpful and impactful for them."

Shey Antido

Program Director, Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science

"ACUE provided different strategies, tools, and resources we could use as faculty to enhance the skills of future nurses."

Nina Nellhaus Sabghir

Clinical Professor, Nursing, York College, CUNY

"If we don't teach effectively, students go into nursing without understanding what they're doing or why. We're dealing with real human beings and real people's lives."

www.acue.org

Ready to Prepare the Next Generation of Nurses?
Schedule A Demo!

partnerships@acue.org