I. INTRODUCTION

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX) is a comprehensive federal law that prohibits educational institutions from discriminating on the basis of sex in educational programs or activities. Fayetteville State University (University) adheres to Title IX and does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its education programs or activities, to include admissions and employment.

Title IX also requires such institutions to adopt and publish grievance procedures to resolve student and employee complaints alleging discrimination prohibited by Title IX. To ensure compliance with Title IX and in an effort to ensure that employees and students receive prompt and equitable resolution of complaints involving sex discrimination, the University has implemented policies and procedures that address complaints of sex discrimination. This document summarizes those policies and procedures applicable to Title IX.

Inquiries about the application of Title IX may be referred to the University's Title IX Coordinator.
