STUDENT REPORT

Trustee Jalynn Jones provided an update on Student Government Association (SGA) activities. Trustee Jones stated that during Homecoming, the SGA received donations from the Student Activities Council and the National Pan-Hellenic Council for the Capital Campaign. The SGA also raised a total $2,000 from Homecoming activities that will also go toward the Capital Campaign. The SGA has pledged $5,000 over the five-year campaign period.

November was set aside as Community Service Month. A few of the community service projects the SGA participated in were as follows: Operation Blessings with the Child Care Facility on campus and with the Green Team. The community service items that they shared with the Green Team on campus included the ten percent campaign, in which students were encouraged to purchase food from the local markets. Other sponsored SGA events included Bronco’s Red Day—a day set aside to observe World Aids Day. Crying in Silence was an event that touched on some of the psychological issues students face on campus. This event was held in partnership with the Council of Negro Women.

Some of the accomplishments achieved by the SGA included the ribbon cutting ceremony for the traffic light that was installed on Murchison Road across from University Place Apartments (UPA). It was a student safety issue that has now been satisfied. The SGA conducted its first appreciation ceremony to award deserving students. One of the “SGA All Star” awards went to Marquel Gathers (a football player who was injured early in the season, and in spite of his injury demonstrated great teamwork). The other went to Tenieka Askew who presented her prize winning business concept earlier in the meeting. The SGA received a sponsorship from Campbell Soup, which coincides with their health initiative. Students attended a Law School Forum in Atlanta, as well as the Thurgood Marshall trip to Washington, DC.

Some of the challenges the SGA will tackle next quarter are as follows:

a) Safety in UPA and other dorms
b) Responding to survey the SGA conducted regarding dining services – Aramark. Complaints are up.
c) Students want Wi-Fi accessibility in their rooms
d) Attending Association of Student Government (ASG) meetings – FSU has 4 delegates and the organization meets monthly

e) “Open Floor” concerns

f) Finalization of revised SGA Constitution

CHAIRMAN’S REMARKS

Chair Lucy Vidal-Barreto welcomed Dr. Joan Perry. Dr. Perry is the Board of Governor’s liaison to FSU.

Chair Vidal-Barreto spoke about the direction of the Board as well as the three items of focus, which are 1) fundraising, 2) Board outcomes, and 3) Board engagement.

Fundraising

Presently, the Board is at almost 100% participation in the Capital Campaign. Chair Vidal-Barreto thanked Trustee Dickerson for his presentation on planned giving. There are plans to have a fundraising training session during the Board retreat in January.

Board Outcomes

Work with Chancellor Anderson and his Cabinet on the university’s strategic priorities in planning for the Strategic Plan for 2015-2019. Chair Vidal-Barreto thanked the Board for their support in this effort.

Board Engagement

Chair Vidal-Barreto met with Chancellor Anderson and the Vice Chancellor for Institutional Advancement to obtain feedback and explore opportunities for improvement. Homecoming would be a great time and opportunity to engage alumni donors. Chair Vidal-Barreto asked the Board to send suggestions they may have to Mr. Caldwell, Vice Chancellor for Institutional Advancement. The FSU Board of Trustees Endowment Board will meet directly at the conclusion of the meeting today.

Some of the activities Chair Vidal-Barreto participated in this quarter included the Trustee Workshop on November 6 at NC State that was well attended by FSU’s Trustee Board. Prior to the Trustee Workshop (November 5), the Chair was invited to dinner by President Ross. She and Chairs from the other universities were in attendance. President Ross spoke about performing duties as trustees, capital campaigns, and Homeland Security. Chair Vidal-Barreto attended the Minority Medical Campaign (part of the Capital Campaign) on September 26 at the residence of Chancellor and Mrs. Anderson. Seventy thousand dollars in pledges was raised at this meeting.

Chair Vidal-Barreto thanked Trustee Porter for representing her on November 22 at the Gala hosted by the School of Education, in which Trustee John Griffin, Jr. was honored and received an award. On January 24, 2014, a Board of Trustees Retreat will be held on campus. The focus of the retreat will be 1) work we do as a Board, 2) assessing meeting format, 3) budget, fundraising training, and brainstorming. Mr. Peter Hans, Chairman of the Board of Governors will bring greetings and share information on Governance in Higher Education at the retreat.

In conclusion, Chair Vidal-Barreto thanked all the Board members for their work behind the scenes. She wished everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy Birthday to Chancellor Anderson.

CHANCELLOR’S REPORT

Chancellor Anderson acknowledged the presence of Dr. Joan Perry, member of the Board of Governors and liaison to FSU, who gave a few words of thanks for the warm welcome.

On November 6th, the Board of Governors and President Tom Ross hosted a Trustees Workshop at NC State. Chancellor Anderson thanked all Board members for their participation. FSU had one of the largest contingencies.

Chancellor Anderson also thanked the Board for their 100 percent participation in the campaign. He thanked Trustee Richard Adams, especially his wife, Maria, for facilitating the Minority Medical Campaign. Mrs. Adams was the force behind this campaign fundraiser, getting donors to contribute a little over $70,000.

Ms. Carla Harris, Managing Director in the Strategic Client Group at Morgan Stanley, will be the Chancellor’s Distinguished Speaker on March 6, 2014, at 6:30 p.m. She will also meet with some of the faculty and students at the Business School. Dr. Anderson stated that Ms. Harris is one of the most powerful women of color at Morgan Stanley and he encouraged everyone to attend the Speaker Series.

In concert with the other eight state HBCU’s, Chancellor Anderson drafted and sent a letter to newly-elected Governor Pat McCrory that he shared with the Board. The letter addressed some of the challenges and issues facing HBCU’s, along with financial goals. As an attachment to the letter sent to Governor McCrory, a snapshot of general information for several HBCU’s was included. Chancellor Anderson has had an opportunity to speak at length with several of Governor McCrory’s education staffers about HBCU critical issues with hopes of moving the letter forward.

While attending a SACS meeting, Chancellor Anderson met with Mrs. Adrienne Johnson, our campaign consultant. She introduced Chancellor Anderson to several people while there and received a commitment of internships. He further stated that there are many opportunities to fundraise and garner support for FSU.

Chancellor Anderson entertained the idea of a new university achievement award that can be given at commencement. He asked the Board to brainstorm and come up with ideas for this award. The award could be given to someone in the community, a politician, a business person, and as well, a new student or faculty award.
In 2014, we need to think about critical cost issues that include technology, marketing, and branding. We have continuous upgrade needs in the areas above that are critical to the University’s growth.

The administration is presently conducting a search for a Vice Chancellor for Business and Finance. Trustee Porter applauded the Chancellor and Vice Chancellor, Dr. Thomas Conway, for their efforts during the search. He believes we have great candidates and have narrowed it down to two. This was a national search and done in-house. The Board would like to know the search process and a periodic status.

The framework for the development of the FSU Strategic Plan for 2015-2020 has been revised. The strategic priorities have been narrowed from eight to three, although the others have been included in a subset of the three. Chancellor Anderson asked the Board members to select a strategic priority they’d be interested in working on.

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting was adjourned a 3:05 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Vedas Neal, Secretary
