

I'm Lashea Shipp. I'm a junior. A double major in Accounting and Finance.

In life I wanna be within a firm. Hopefully obtain my CPA.

I went to a conference that I go to every year for the National Association of Black Accountants. And I went to the conference my freshman year and got exposed to the many job opportunities that they had there. It just really amazed me how many routes you can go.

Fayetteville State is a great school to go to if you want that one-on-one with your professors. If you want that extra push a lot of times big classes, big universities, you don't get that experience with your professors. You don't get to talk to them one-on-one and you don't get to ask them questions. You may have to email them. Things like that.

It's helped me grow both personally and professionally. Great professors. Great environment. Everyone is a family.

I'm proud to be a bronco because I take pride in my work. I take pride in the institution. Me, actually trying to complete my undergrad and on top of that have two degrees, a dual major, I'm proud of that. And I would be the first in my family to actually do that. And potentially go to graduate school as well. So I'm proud of that.
