DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

FAYETTEVILLE
STATE UNIVERSITY™
The Division of Student Affairs
Overview

Mission

The mission of Student Affairs is to support the functions of the University by providing the highest quality programs, services, and educational experiences that enhance learning and personal development for students.

Vision

As an integral component to the University mission, we strive to enhance the overall quality of campus life, establish a sense of community and enable all students to realize their fullest potential.

Students are the center of our work. As our first priority, they deserve the greatest educational opportunities and the highest level of quality services. The philosophy of the division is that student development is an ongoing and cumulative process of intellectual, psychological, cultural, social, physical and spiritual growth. This growth and development is shaped by a student's involvement outside the classroom and is an integral part of the collegiate learning experience.

Division of Student Affairs Competencies

Critical Thinking & Problem Solving: Identifies and carefully examines problems and questions and gathers, analyzes, evaluates information from appropriate sources to form a strategy, decision, opinion or solution.

Oral, Written, & Digital Communication: Conveys meaning and responds through writing and speaking coherently and effectively with others one on one, in small groups, and /or in front of a large audience, and develops the expression of ideas through written, oral and digital mediums. Uses appropriate syntax and grammar and listens attentively to others and responds appropriately a clear and concise manner.

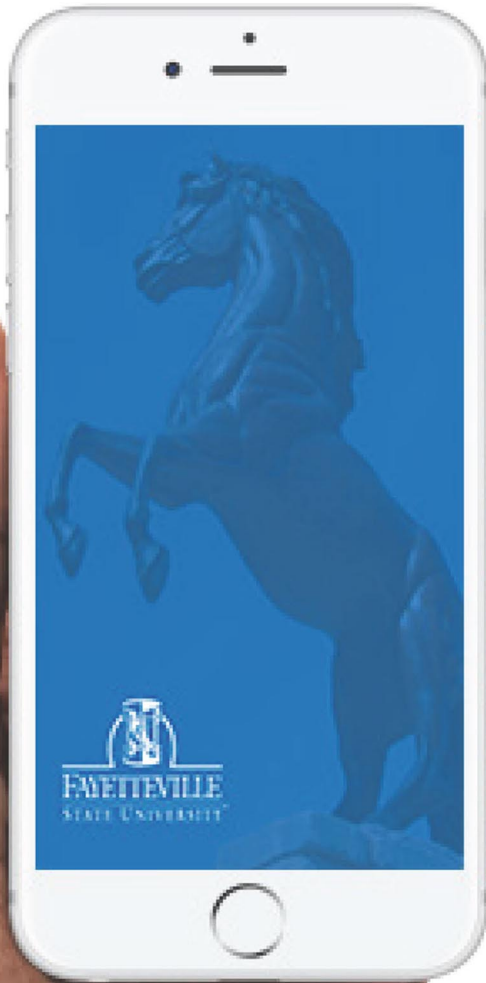

Teamwork & Collaboration: Works with and seeks involvement from people with diverse experiences and identities towards common goals. Demonstrates strong interpersonal skills, respect, and dignity for others and is able to integrate and successfully work with, and distribute responsibilities across, team members.

Leadership & Professional Development: Leadership: Takes initiative, demonstrates effective, contextually appropriate decision making and motivates and encourages participation from others to work towards a shared purpose and vision. Professional Development: Demonstrates integrity, adaptability, dependability and ethical responsibility, and accepts direction and personal accountability, e.g. punctuality, working productively with others, and follow-through.

Civic Engagement & Social Responsibility Participates in service/ volunteer activities and engages in critical reflection, and appropriately challenges unfair and unjust behavior to benefit the welfare of society and participates in relevant governance systems.

Wellness: Through the comprehensive integration of proactive strategies provided by FSU, students will be empowered to prioritize and create balance between their emotional, social, intellectual, physical, and spiritual well-being as evidenced by the acknowledgement of greater satisfaction, improved quality of life, retention, academic success, learning from challenges, and overall optimal functioning.

greetings to the mighty
Class of 2026:

Welcome to Fayetteville State University! We are excited to have you begin your collegiate academic journey here at FSU as we STRIDE forward together.

In an effort to assist you as you begin your journey at Fayetteville State University, we have designed Welcome Week to equip you with important information that will help you be successful and graduate. Therefore, it is with this vision that the theme of Welcome Week is "S.T.R.I.D.E.: The Bronco Way! STRIDE stands for: Students Taking Responsibility In Developing Excellence. STRIDE is a fun-filled, information-packed week that prepares you for success at Fayetteville State University.

Throughout the week you will have opportunities to meet classmates, faculty, staff, and advisors and engage in seminars and social events.

Anchored in true Bronco traditions, Welcome Week is full of activities and fun to ensure you feel prepared to grow academically, professionally, and socially. At FSU, you can be yourself and STRIDE towards success as you expand your talents, increase your knowledge, explore your options, and transform your life.

The goals of Fayetteville State University Welcome Week are to:

- Ensure that you accomplish all necessary tasks required to become officially enrolled at Fayetteville State University.
- Provide an understanding of Fayetteville State University's traditions and legacy and your placetherein.
- Help you transition effectively to college life academically, personally, professionally, and socially.
- Help you understand the University processes, procedures, and policies that will govern your life as a student here at FSU.
- Provide learning pathways to career readiness.

During your matriculation here at FSU, we encourage you to stay focused academically as well as be involved in campus life and the community. Most importantly, you will quickly learn that FSU provides a quality education that will make you proud to be a Bronco today, at graduation, and forever more as alumni!

Welcome to Fayetteville State University. Take it all in STRIDE!

WELCOME

greetings to the Class of 2026:

Welcome to Fayetteville State University (FSU)! I cannot begin to tell you how happy I am that you now are a member of the Bronco Family.

FSU is the oldest public historically black college and university in North Carolina. It is an honor that we hold in very high regard. While we have our roots in teacher education, FSU has evolved into an institution that produces leaders in a variety of fields, and who have a tremendous impact on this city, region, state, and nation. Now that you are with us, you will witness first hand all that this great university has to offer. From world-class academics to a thriving social life to championship athletic programs, FSU is a place where you can grow and thrive.

I encourage you to take advantage of all that FSU has to offer. With more than 80 clubs and organizations, there is something for everyone and it is my sincere hope that you will immerse yourself into the campus life and culture. The faculty, staff, administration, and your fellow students have gone to great lengths to make certain your next years at FSU will be some of the best of your life. If there is anything that you need or if we can be of service to you, do not hesitate to call upon any of these capable individuals. They are here for the sole purpose of ensuring your growth and success in every facet of college life.

Again, I welcome you to your new home away from home, and I look forward to seeing you around campus.

In the Bronco Spirit,
Darrell T. Allison, J.D.
Chancellor

greetings to the Class of 2026:

Welcome to Fayetteville State University! We are honored by your decision to join our FSU community and thrilled about your enthusiasm and your motivation to attend FSU. I am confident that you will find an environment that will allow you to define your personal uniqueness as you realize your goals and anticipated career aspirations for the future.

As the second oldest public university in North Carolina, you are joining an academic community that is steeped in tradition and pays a particular homage to our past, but also prepares you for a successful future. You have a wonderful opportunity for developing new relationships when you become a member of the Bronco Family and I encourage you to actively participate in your community. Among the first people to greet you at FSU will be your Resident Assistant (RA) and your Orientation Leader (OL). These students are great resources for navigating the campus and for answering any questions or concerns.

Our focus is to give you the tools necessary to develop skills in scholarship, leadership, and service so that you may graduate as well rounded Broncos. What this means is that as a Bronco, we would like you to succeed academically by always striving for high academic honors, assuming leadership roles and responsibilities, getting involved in different clubs and organizations and giving back to your community through dedicated service. It's the Bronco Way!

Upon arrival, you will be introduced to the University's expectations and to your responsibilities as new members of our continued legacy of excellence here at FSU. It is our anticipation that you, as a selected group of students, will demonstrate high achieving behaviors and become future leaders of the world.

Class of 2026, you will receive a great deal of freedom and you are expected to respond respectfully and maturely to the FSU responsibilities and the FSU Student Handbook.

The Division of Student Affairs offers a supportive and stimulating environment. We expect great things from you at FSU and we hope you remain focused and remember that graduation and employment is your ultimate destination through the challenging, fulfilling, and enjoyable years at Fayetteville State University.

Sincerely,

Juanette Council, Ed.D.

Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

greetings to the Class of 2026:

To the Incoming Students of Fayetteville State University,

Congratulations and welcome to the Bronco Family! Fayetteville State University was founded in 1867 to educate those in society who were not deemed worthy. As students attending a Historically Black College and University (HBCUs), you have the power to support their efforts and sacrifice. The journey will not always be easy, but you won't go through it alone. As FSU students, faculty, and staff will Pass It Forward to you in a variety of ways as you matriculate during your time here.

"Enjoy every moment because being a Bronco is a privilege not everyone is afforded", was some advice I received during my freshman year and have clung to ever since. College is a time for discovery, learning, and fun. Keep in mind that your primary role is that of a student, but you should make the most of any chance that comes your way. Treasure the simple pleasures, from fried chicken Wednesdays in the café to late night runs to Waffle House with your friends.

We are all very happy that you have chosen FSU, and we know that you will make Broncos new and old proud. You will now be a Bronco for the rest of your life and have family members in every corner of the earth. Ultimately remember within these "time honored walls" we hold true to our motto, RES NON VERBA, DEEDS NOT WORDS.

With Bronco Pride,

Maya Martin

Student Government Association President

2022-2023

greetings to the Class of 2026:

Welcome Class of 2026!

It is a great honor to welcome you to the greatest HBCU in the nation, Fayetteville State University! We are truly thrilled that you have chosen to become a part of our Bronco family here at FSU.

Becoming a Bronco is something that you should hold with prestige and confidence. This is the start of a new journey which will be full of memories that will last a lifetime. Remember, the decisions you make at the beginning of your college career can help you establish behaviors that will set you on the path of success.

Consider it an opportunity to be afforded an education at this historic institution enriched with Bronco Pride and a foundation for educational, social, cultural, and economic transformation. Your time here will not only be the best years of your life but the most important.

At Fayetteville State you will learn the skills you need to realize your dreams. This journey will not always be the smoothest but always remember why you are here and keep your goal of graduating and launching a successful career ever present in your thoughts and actions. And remember to always strive for excellence. It's the Bronco way!"

Welcome to Broncoville! I am excited to be your Miss Fayetteville State University and I look forward to serving you and this prestigious institution as we embark on this promising year together. I am confident this year will be nothing but great and eventful!

With Bronco Pride,

Asia Hammock

Miss Fayetteville State University 2022-2023

greetings to the Class of 2026:

Welcome to what will be an amazing 4 years. I am Issiah Deon Mclean, A senior Criminal Justice Major from Elizabeth City, NC. I am also an Army soldier in the US Military and a member of the NAACP. You have made a great decision in selecting Fayetteville State university. Pride and Unity is the cornerstone of life at this fine institution and by you and your family taking the step to join “Bronco land” proves that Fayetteville State University is headed into a brighter future.

Fayetteville State has a history like no other. Over the past 153 years this university has upheld a pristine image of excellence through personal, professional and community development. Millions of Alumni have carved their faces into the rich history here as a bronco and you are the next to follow.

We stand by our motto, “Res Non Verba” (Deeds Not Words). By the first day that you step foot on this historical campus you will understand the meaning, if not by the time you graduate and why us broncos value and cherish the words so much.

As your reigning Mr. FSU, I look forward to meeting each of you! I want you all to use me as a tool to assist you with anything you may need throughout your transition into the next chapter of your life. This is one small glance into what us broncos do to better foster to a campus community of students that may need guidance.

Ease is a greater threat to progress than hardship. Don't take the elevator, take the stairs; it is a little more work, but you will be satisfied with the result. Make the best of your undergraduate experience. Make great decisions, connect, network and get outside of your comfort zone.

What if it could be better than you imagined?

Take your camera out and make memories, you'll want those once you've walked through that threshold at the end of your old white & blue journey.

With Honors.... Best Wishes, Class of 2026

Best Regards,

Issiah D. Mclean

Mr. Fayetteville State University, 2022-2023

greetings to the 2022-2023

HISTORY

In 1867, seven black men - Matthew N. Leary, Andrew J. Chesnutt, Robert Simmons, George Grange Sr., Thomas Lomax, Nelson Carter, and David A. Bryant - paid $136 for two lots on Gillespie Street and converted themselves into a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees to maintain this property permanently as a site for the education of Black children in Fayetteville. General O. O. Howard of the Freedman's Bureau, one of the best-known friends of Black education, erected a building on this site, and the institution became known as the Howard School. By a legislative act in 1877, the North Carolina General Assembly provided for the establishment of a Normal School for the education of Black teachers. The Howard School was chosen as the most promising because of its successful record during the previous ten years. It was designated a teacher training institution, and its name was changed to the State Colored Normal School. Five Chief Administrative Officers served for relatively short periods until 1899: Robert L. Harris, Principal (1867 - 1880), Charles W. Chesnutt, Principal (1880 - 1883), Ezekiel Ezra (E. E.) Smith, Principal (1883 - 1888), George Williams, Principal (1888 - 1895), E. E. Smith, Principal (1895 - 1898), and the Rev. L. E. Fairley, Principal (1898 - 1899).

In 1899, Dr. Smith returned to the institution. Under his presidency, the school grew from three rooms in a small frame structure to a physical plant of ten buildings on fifty-acre tract of land. In order to pay for the land, Dr. Smith, along with F. D. Williston, E. N. Williams, J. G. Smith and Dr. P. N. Melchor, endorsed a note for $3,000.00. Then note was renewed several times and eventually paid off by Dr. Smith. He later deeded the land to the State. Dr. Smith retired in 1933 at the age of 80 with more than 40 years of service to the institution.

Dr. J Ward Seabrook succeeded Dr. Smith and under his presidency the school became Fayetteville State Teachers College, thereafter being authorized to grant the Bachelor of Science degree in Education. The college received both state and regional accreditation in 1947.

Dr. Seabrook retired in 1956 and was succeeded by Dr. Rudolph Jones. During Dr. Jones' administration, the curriculum was expanded to include majors in secondary education and programs leading to degrees outside of the teaching field. The name of the school was changed to Fayetteville State College in 1963. Also under Dr. Jones' leadership, six additions were made to the physical plant to accommodate a rapidly expanding enrollment.

In 1969, the institution acquired its present name, "Fayetteville State University," and Dr. Charles "A" Lyons Jr. was elected president. By a legislative act in 1972, Fayetteville State University became a constituent institution of the University of North Carolina System. The Chief Executive Officer's position was re-titled to Chancellor with Dr. Lyons becoming the first Chancellor of the University.

During his tenure, the curriculum was expanded to include a variety of both baccalaureate and master's level programs. In addition, the Fort Bragg-Pope AFB Extension Center, in conjunction with the Week-End and Evening College, was established in order to provide military personnel and other persons employed full-time with the opportunity to further their education.

The general academic structure took its present configuration in 1985 when the University became a Comprehensive Level I Institution. In addition to expanding program offerings and services, eight buildings were added to the physical plant during this period to include the state-of-the-art Charles Chesnut Library.

On January 1, 1988, Dr. Lloyd V. Hackley became the eighth Chief Executive of the University. During his tenure, FSU's first doctoral program in Education Leadership was established: and baccalaureate program offerings were also increased to include 36 disciplines in the arts and sciences, business and economics, and education. The addition of the ultra-modern Business and Economics building and the new Health, Physical Education and Recreation Complex underscored Dr. Hackley's commitment to FSU's continued expansion and growth. Chancellor Hackley strengthened FSU's community outreach to at-risk children in the public schools, establishing numerous scholarship and tutoring/mentoring programs. FSU's first major capital campaign was also completed during Dr. Hackley's tenure, and enabled FSU to increase the number of privately funded student scholarships to over 200. On December 31, 1994, Dr. Hackley left his post at FSU to become President of the North Carolina Department of community colleges, the first African-American to lead the state's system of 59 community colleges.

Dr. Donna J. Benson, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs of the University of North Carolina served as FSU's interim chancellor from January 1, 1995 to November 14, 1995.

Dr. Willis B. McLeod, a 1964 graduate of Fayetteville State University, was appointed Chancellor on November 15, 1995 bringing over 30 years of professional experience in the field of education. He was the ninth chief executive Officer of the 135-year-old institution, and the first alumnus to serve as Chancellor since FSU became a constituent of the University of North Carolina. Several major initiatives were established by Dr. McLeod to lead FSU into the 21st Century and included the "Freshman Year Initiative" program, major campus improvements, a master plan for the revitalization of Murchison Road and several outreach efforts aimed at forging stronger community ties and regional partnerships with public school and university leaders. Dr. McLeod retired as Chancellor on June 30, 2003 with emeritus status.

Dr. T. J. (Thelma Jane) Bryan was elected by the University of North Carolina Board of Governors on June 18, 2003. Dr. Bryan started her duties on July 1, 2003, as the tenth Chief Executive Officer of Fayetteville State University and the first woman elected by the University of North Carolina Board of Governors to lead the 136-year-old institution as Chancellor. She was also the first African American woman appointed as head of a University of North Carolina institution. During her four-year tenure, the university added ten new academic programs -- undergraduate programs such as fire science, forensic science, management information systems, and generic nursing as well as masters's programs in criminal justice and teaching. Full online baccalaureate programs in criminal justice, psychology, and sociology and a full online master's programs in criminal justice were added, and FSU's distance-education enrollments catapulted to third in the 16-institution system. Dr. Bryan mandated that all programs that are eligible for specialized accreditation pursue such stamps of approval, and accreditations were garnered from the Council of Social Work Education for the master of social work program, from the council on Collegiate Nursing Education for the generic nursing program. Cross Creek Early College High School and Fire Station #14 were established on the campus during her tenure, which ended on July 23, 2007.

Dr. Lloyd V Hackley was named Interim Chancellor by UNC President Erskine Bowles and started his duties effective July 23, 2007. Dr. Hackley was Chancellor (interim) at North Carolina A&T State University from June 2006 to July 2007. He was president of the North Carolina Community College System, Chancellor and tenured professor of both Fayetteville State University and the University of Arkansas of Pine Bluff, Vice President in the 16-campus University of North Carolina, chair of the North Carolina Child Advocacy Institute, chair of the Arkansas Civil Rights Commission, and chair of the Presidents' Advisory Board on Historically Black Colleges and Universities. Dr. Hackley is Chancellor emeritus of Fayetteville State University, chair of the NC Methodist Home for Children and chairman emeritus of the National CHARACTER COUNTS! Coalition. Since January, 1997, he has taught in or conducted personally more than 3200 seminars, workshops and lectures in ethics and character development throughout America and overseas, for children, parents, teachers, coaches, and other persons who work with children, as well as for businesses, universities, various governmental agencies and other youth-serving organizations.

James A Anderson, professor of psychology and former vice provost and vice president at the University of Albany in New York is elected Chancellor of Fayetteville State University by the Board of Governors of the multi-campus University of North Carolina on June 9, 2008. Under Chancellor Anderson's leadership, three new buildings have been added to the FSU landscape. The state-of-the-art Southeastern North Carolina Nursing Education and Research Center is technologically enhanced to support nursing education of the 21st century. A highlight of the facility is the Clinical Simulation Center where you can experience the best in human patient simulation. Additionally, FSU has strengthened its partnership with the military and its neighbors at Fort Bragg. FSU has established new academic programs, including on-line options, to meet the needs of current and future soldiers at Fort Bragg. Among the programs is a degree in intelligence studies. FSU actively supports the military by offering classes on campuses on Fort Bragg, Camp Lejeune, and Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, all in North Carolina, and Fort Sam Houston in Texas. With partnerships with seven institutions of higher education in China, FSU is preparing students to be 21st Century global scholars. Each year, students from sister institutions in China come to FSU for study and in return, FSU sends students to China for academic study. As Chancellor Anderson puts it, "no other historically black college or university has its footprint in China like FSU." In addition to China, FSU has formulated partnerships with Nigeria, France, Tanzania, South Africa, Grenada, and Poland.

On August 7, 2019 Dr. Peggy Valentine steps into the role of Acting Chancellor, taking Fayetteville State University into its next season.

Darrell T. Allison became the 12th chief executive officer and Chancellor of Fayetteville State University, the 2nd oldest public university in the UNC System, on March 15, 2021. Under his leadership, Chancellor Allison has made it a priority to listen to stakeholders and has invested time and attention to listening to students, faculty, staff, alumni, and supporters of the university, through a series of town halls, one-on-one meetings, and small group engagement sessions.

Another key focus area for Chancellor Allison has been improving college affordability and access in order to maximize student success. He secured FSU's participation in the NC Promise Tuition Plan, which leverages state dollars to subsidize the cost of tuition for all enrolled students, and he used COVID relief funding to clear $1.6 million in student debt, amassed during the pandemic. His 30-60-90 Summer School Program has provided scholarships to FSU students for summer school classes, with the goal of optimizing their on-time graduation.

ALMA MATER

“OLD WHITE AND BLUE”

Our colors so true, Oh hail White and Blue!
To Thee our voices ring.
Tho' seasons may roll, and changes unfold
Thy praise we'll ever sing.
All honor and love and loyalty
We pledge our hearts anew.
Our Alma Mater, F.S.U.
We hail thee, Old White and Blue!

We cherish each hall, each time honored wall
Each bending tree and bower.
Tho' far we may roam, thy spirit leads on
To victory and power.
With courage and might and majesty
March on old colors true.

Our Alma Mater F.S.U.

We'll stand by Old White and Blue!

CAREER SERVICES

RUDOLPH JONES STUDENT CENTER | 910-672-1205

THE FRESHMAN YEAR:

EXPLORING SELF-ASSESSMENT & CAREER PLANNING ACTIVITIES

- Begin to identify interests, abilities, skills and personal/work values
- Seek career advising to discuss choosing a major or identifying possible career options
- Explore a wide variety of majors
- Talk to academic and career counselors about the majors you are seriously considering
- Develop and practice good study habits, organizational and functional skills
- Investigate and join campus organizations that might interest you

THIS IS A GOOD WAY TO DEVELOP LEADERSHIP, ORGANIZATIONAL AND PLANNING SKILLS

- Participate in campus activities – get involved in what's happening on campus
- Seek summer, part-time and volunteer jobs to explore and gain valuable experience

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING FOUR KEY QUESTIONS:

1. What do I want to do when I graduate?
2. What can I do with the degree that I am seeking?
3. What do I need to do to develop myself further?
4. How can I ensure that I start the career I am seeking after graduation?

- Read the newspaper and watch the news often.
- Keep up with current events
- Register with the Office of Career Services

HEALTH

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICES

Student Health Services (SHS) is located in the Spaulding Building. Student Health Services strives to promote and maintain conditions that are conducive for healthy living, guide and encourage students to accept health as a positive value of life, and stimulate an interest in students to make healthy choices. SHS provides a variety of health care services to all students currently enrolled. SHS provides treatment of minor illnesses and minor injuries. Students needing referrals for specialized services are referred to local area clinics and hospitals. Upon referral, the student is responsible for all charges not covered by their personal insurance plan and/or their Student Medical Insurance Plan.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Acute Medical Care • GYN, PAP Smear • HIV/STI Testing • Breast Exams
- Laboratory • Contraceptives • Pharmacy • Health Education and Promotion

A nurse is always on duty during hours of operation. Medical Provider hours for routine treatment are posted but may vary during summer sessions. The doors to the Student Health Services are locked after 5pm for security purposes. After hours, students can contact Health Line Blue at 1-877-477-2424 for non-life threatening issues. For any life threatening emergency students should contact 911, Campus Police, or the Residence Hall Advisor/Director.

INSURANCE

Fayetteville State University requires each student to have accident and sickness insurance protection either by their personal policy or under the FSU Student Medical Insurance Plan. Brochures describing the Student Insurance Plan are available at Student Health Services or can be found online at www.studentinsurance.com.

The premium for the Student Medical Insurance Plan is included in each student's semester bill. Students who do NOT wish to be enrolled in the Student Medical Insurance Plan MUST complete the insurance waiver form online only.

THE DEADLINE TO WAIVE/ENROLL IN STUDENT BLUE HEALTH INSURANCE IS SEPTEMBER 10, 2022
